ICP, INC JUBILEE 2016 YOKOHAMA JAPAN: JULY 22-25

Yokohama and Mt. Fuji, Japan

Machiko Fukuhara,
PhD.
Scientific Program
Chair

From southern to northern Japan, in order, cherry blossoms are coming into bloom. This tells us that the real spring is just around the corner. In the Tokyo area, including Yokohama, the blossoms are expected to cover the area within a week. This also means that our annual Convention is coming close.

Again, I would like to encourage you, our friends, to come to our annual Conference in Yokohama. Also, I urge you to register as soon as possible by using the form either in this IP or on the website. Those who have registered for ICP2016, please send a note to Nancy Quatrano (our secretary general) indicating your participation in ICP, Inc., so that you will be able to get the benefits of attending the entire program by ICP, Inc. (including food). Otherwise, we (SG Nancy Quatrano and the Local Area Committee) will have difficulty keeping track of accurate numbers of attendees to our own, 74th Annual Conference, ICP, Inc. Please remember that ICP2016 and ICP, Inc. are different. (Please check with <http://ICPWEB.ORG>). In hopes to make ground transportation decisions easier for you, we have included some information on Page 13 of this IP. We do hope you will find it helpful.

You may want to know a little bit about recent Japan. Today, some of the aftermath debris of the big earthquake in the northern part of Japan five years ago has not been cleared yet. Also, persons are unable to go back to their homes from temporary residences because of the radiation problem. However, they are working hard toward the revival of their communities.

On the bright side, Japan is a relatively safe country. However, like countries all over the world, economic problems in Japan are a major source of anxiety for many people, and the gap between poor and rich exists. The average person in Japan is managing to go about her daily routine. Technology at small and medium enterprises is surviving, and many products are still being exported abroad.

Equality by sexes has been voiced since 1985, when the laws were changed. But, it is still not easy for women to handle household chores, child rearing, and work in companies.

The shortage of nursery schools has created problems and the birthrate continues to decline. At the other end of the spectrum, Japan is a country of long life, but the national care system for the elderly is still poor and improvements are happening slowly.

While you are visiting Japan, you will find foods of many kinds, including various ethnic restaurants. In addition, even though Japanese is the native language, recently people are eager to learn English as we prepare for the Olympics that will be held in Tokyo, 2020. You will find it easier to communicate today compared with your visit in 1990 when the 48th ICP, Inc. Conference was held in Tokyo. You should not have difficulty travelling around as many signs for trains and information are in English and other languages.

Please enjoy the Conference and your visit. We are looking forward to welcoming you here!

LEADERSHIP IN ICP, INC.

Tara Pir, PhD.
USA
Past President

As Past President/Chair of Nominations and Elections Committee, I have been involved in ongoing recruitment, outreach and engagement. The effort continues, through identifying qualified people for our available ICP positions.

Leadership is an inherent aspect of ICP membership, as our members around the world have a great power of access to many resources – energizing new and emerging professionals in our field. Especially at this time and era in our profession, there is an unspoken, embedded expectation of those in our profession to play a greater leadership role at an international level.

Taking a leadership position in ICP is a remarkable opportunity and way of contributing to our profession at a global level. I am inviting all of you to consider nominating yourself or a colleague in our field for one of the available positions, as together we can do a better job by using our local and international networking resources. We are definitely looking to bring forward new ideas and new ways of managing our organization on an international level and to engage new and talented individuals to diversify our pool of qualified candidates. Please respond directly to me, via email at drtarapir@imces.org.

On another front, I have updated ICP's website to provide a better, more organized, modernized version of ICP. The new website creates direct access to information and our membership application. Please see: <http://imcesweb.wix.com/icpwebtest> . Please review the website and provide me your feedback and suggestions.

With Warm Regards,

Dr. Tara Pir, ICP Past President

Anna Laura Comunian
Director at Large

I am working on the InAbsentia Poster Presentation proposal review. The theme of the posters must discuss international aspects of the research presented. The deadline for ICP's Eleventh IN ABSENTIA POSTER Proposal submission, is May 31, 2016. Send poster proposals (InAbsentia or not) to: Anna Laura Comunian at annalaura.comunian@unipd.it.

I am also working for the Distinguished Contribution Award: Frances Mullen Award. Submission deadline is May 20, 2016 . This award is presented to honor a member of the ICP who has a long and distinguished history of research or applied contributions to one or more international areas. Previous recipients include Dr. Frances Mullen, first ICP Secretary General; Dr. Elisa Margaona, Mexico, Dr. Frances Culbertson, USA and Ann Marie O'Roark, USA.

As UN Representative in Geneva, I have been working to collect information and data about the post-2015 Millennium Development Goals (MDG). The aim of the Policy Dialogue of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) is to evaluate the progress made in the definition of SDGs and to discuss the difficulties and opportunities to set up a common, universal agenda in order to address and monitor global challenges. Thus, sustainable development demands a data revolution to improve the availability, quality, timeliness and disaggregation of data to support the implementation of the new development agenda at all levels.

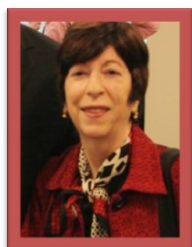

I am collaborating in current activities of ICP Liaison to Federation of National Psychologists Associations in Europe (EFPA). The psychologists in the member associations include practitioners as well as academic and research psychologists. There are 32 member associations of EFPA representing 200,000 individual members. The Federation provides a forum for European cooperation in a wide range of fields of academic training, psychology practice and research ration of practice with research and the promotion of an integrated discipline of psychology. The member organisations of EFPA are concerned with promoting and improving psychology as a profession and as a discipline, particularly in applied settings and with emphasis on the training and research associated with such practice.

Let me express best wishes to all.

At some point in the future, we hope to conduct ICP, Inc. meetings in which graduate students and Early Career Psychologists, as well as others can participate virtually during

I am also working with our Membership Committee, with Chairs Dr. Andrew Simon and Dr. Norma Simon, as well as our graduate student outreach Committee Chairs- Joshua Wright and Monica Tomlinson, to attract new members to our inclusive and innovative ICP. The Presidential Initiative goal for this 2015-16 year is for each member to enroll one new member. Please notify Sec. Gen Nancy Quatrano of the new member that you sponsor / enroll.

On-Going UN Projects

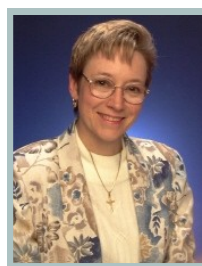

I am also working closely with our ICP UN team members. We are participating in the Planning of the 9th Annual Psychology Day at the UN: "From Vulnerability to Resilience: Using Psychology to Address the Global Migration Crisis." There will be two panels: 1. Cultural Integration in the process of Resettlement; 2. Children, Youth, and the Migration Crisis. The event will take place on April 28 at UN Headquarters. Registration is required. If you are interested, please go to <http://unpsychologyday.org>

As Chair of the NGO Committee on Ageing/NY, I am working with other ICP members on the Committee to support a Convention on the Rights of Older Persons. This Human Rights Instrument is supported by a number of Missions. The Committee on Ageing held four co-sponsored side events at the Commission on Social and Economic Development and two side events at the Commission on the Status of Women. NGO Committee on the Family which holds program meetings each month and has held side events at the Commission on the status of Women and the Commission on Social Development.

Annual Conference 2016

ICP, Inc. 74th Annual Conference will be in Yokohama Japan in July, 2016. President-Elect Dr. Machiko Fukuhara is working with her team to plan a unique scientific program for celebrating the 75th birthday year. While I am unable to travel to Japan, I encourage all ICP members to attend the conference. Please look for information about our ICP conference in Japan on our website.

Membership in the organization as of March 1 was 60 paid and life members. This is an increase of 14 members since December 30, 2015. Most of these are new students, though some are member renewals. This also includes 3 new professional memberships.

The operations account balance as of March 15, 2016 is: $14,801.36 and all invoices are paid. The convention account balance is: $2,527.42. The 2016 ICP INC conference is going to cover most expenses via sponsors, donors and grants secured by President Elect Machiko Fukuhara.

The savings account balance is: $59,345.91 which reflects a change of -$300 for the transfer of the 2015 Fukushima Award funds to the operations account. The PayPal account balance fluctuates, but is currently at $1015.88. and contains operation funds.

I have been functioning as the board secretary and treasurer as well as doing a little assisting with the 2016 convention team. The ICP, Inc. corporate reports and tax filings are complete and were filed on time.

I hope that all are well and looking forward to the wonderful conference in Yokohama, Japan in July.

ICP is active in preparing for Psychology Day to be held April 28th and is part of PCUN, the Psychology Coalition at the UN. Various psychology groups at the UN work together to organize Psychology Day and support each other through PCUN. The theme for Psychology day is forced migration. This program examines the global migration crisis through a Human Rights, Psychological and Intercultural Perspective.

UN AGEING COMMITTEE

UN representative Peter Walker is a member at large on the Ageing Committee's Executive Committee. UN representatives Florence Denmark, Norma Simon and Richard Velayo are also active on the New York Committee on Ageing. Although not an ICP/UN representative, ICP president, Janet Sigal, serves as chair of the New York UN Committee on Ageing.

COMMITTEE ON THE FAMILY

ICP Main Representative Florence Denmark is co-chair of the UN Committee on the Family. Norma Simon is Corresponding Secretary. APA UN representative, ICP, Inc. member Janet Sigal serves on the Executive Committee.

COMMITTEE ON MIGRATION

Eva Sandis, a past chair of the Migration Committee remains active on the UN's NGO Committee on Migration. She participated in two NGO Consultations on her recent trip to Geneva and represented the Committee. ICP's NGO UN representatives and interns are committed and active. Anna Laura Comunian is active in Geneva on the Human Rights Committee and Roswith Roth is active in Vienna programs and conferences on women.

Interns at the UN are: Massoma Alam, Tamara Alaryan, Niki Davis, Amanda Gooden, and Sonia Javani.

Massoma Alam is a Pakistani American and can speak English, Urdu/Hindi, and Punjabi. She is currently pursuing her Masters online in Industrial Organizational psychology at the Chicago School of Professional Psychology.

Tamara Alaryan is a psychology student of the accelerated Bachelor's-Master's program at NYU. As a proud Arab woman, she feels the need to ensure women's rights in the Middle East and would love to be a part of that journey in any way possible.

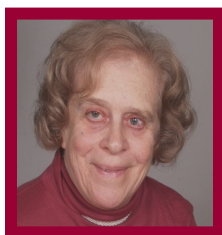

Niki Davis is from Canada and is a Masters student at NYU. She is very interested in how psychology intersects with public policy and specifically how the goals of the United Nations can be operationalized and measured.

Amanda Gooden is a Toronto native who moved to NYC to get her Master's degree in psychology at NYU. She has an interest in the criminal justice system, especially how psychology plays a role in the courtroom. Currently with The International Council of Psychology at the UN, she wants to extend her knowledge of criminal justice and create simple solutions that can be generalized internationally.

Sonia Javani is a Graduate Psychology Student at Pace University. She is an Iranian American and is interested in International Psychology and its interaction with global issues.

All the interns attend DPI briefings and various Committee meetings. Along with the American Psychological Association interns they are planning a program for the Family Committee on trauma and its impact on families.

SUSTAINABLE DATA FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

Local Data Prove Indispensable

- ◆ Between 2000 and 2015, the number of surveys and censuses in the database of the WHO/UNICEF Joint Monitoring Programme on Water Supply and Sanitation has increased six-fold
- ◆ Country coverage for a subset of 22 official MDG indicators improved significantly between 2003 and 2014. While in 2003, only 2 per cent of developing countries had at least two data points for 16 or more of the 22 indicators, by 2014 this figure had reached 79 per cent.

As the post-2015 development agenda is being established, strengthening data production and the use of better data in policymaking and monitoring are becoming increasingly recognized as fundamental means for development. The MDG framework strengthened the use of robust and reliable data for evidence-based decision-making, as many countries integrated the MDGs into their own national priorities and development strategies. Using reliable data to monitor progress towards the MDGs also allowed governments at national and subnational levels to effectively focus their development policies, programmes and interventions.

Data at the local level proved extremely helpful. Their monitoring requirements drew attention to the need for strengthening statistical capacity and improving statistical methodologies and information systems at both national and international levels. Over time, this increased the availability of more and better data, while improving coordination within national statistical systems and leading to new statistical methodologies. To support MDGs monitoring in the Philippines, the National Statistical Coordination Board (NSCB) was designated as the national custodian of MDG indicators.

The Board formulated an MDGs statistical development programme, which enabled data compilation from different sources and formulation of programmes and policies to support the collection, dissemination and improvement of data for policymaking. A community-based monitoring system was also developed to provide data to monitor and evaluate local development plans. Global monitoring of the MDGs improved, assisted by a close collaboration between international agencies and country experts. Between 2000 and 2015, the number of surveys and censuses in the database of the WHO/UNICEF Joint Monitoring Programme on Water Supply and Sanitation has increased six-fold. Country coverage for a subset of 22 official MDG indicators improved significantly between 2003 and 2014. While in 2003, only 2 per cent of developing countries had at least two data points for 16 or more of the 22 indicators, by 2014 this figure had reached 79 per cent. This reflects the increased capacity of national statistical systems to address monitoring requirements and improvements in data reporting mechanisms. It also shows the benefits of better access to national sources by international agencies.

In September 2015 world leaders met (SDGs), forming the international development framework that will replace the current Millennium Development Goals. The seventeen proposed goals and associated targets are planned to run until 2030. Amongst them, Goal 16 focuses on peaceful and inclusive societies, access to justice, and accountable institutions.

The inclusion of Goal 16 in the reflects the growing acceptance that issues related to peace, security, and good governance should play a role in the post-2015 development framework. This progress of a global agenda on peace and development has been possible thanks to the work of several processes, including the Geneva Declaration on Armed Violence and Development (GD), which calls for measurable reductions in the burden of armed violence that humankind faces. On measuring violent deaths and illicit arms flows for Goal 16, the Small Arms Survey, with the support of the Geneva Declaration Secretariat, has published the following Research Notes:

- ◆ Luigi De Martino and David Atwood. 2015. Reducing Illicit Arms Flows and the New Development Agenda. Research Note No. 50, Armed Violence.
- ◆ Anna Alvazzi del Frate and Luigi De Martino. 2015. Every Body Counts: Measuring Violent Deaths. Research Note No. 49, Armed Violence.

Real data improvement occurs when demand and policy support meet the MDG's energized efforts to increase the production and use of development data.

In conclusion the MDG monitoring experience has clearly demonstrated that effective use of data can help to galvanize development efforts, implement successful targeted interventions, track performance and improve accountability. Thus sustainable development demands a data revolution to improve the availability, quality, timeliness and disaggregation of data to support the implementation of the new development agenda at all levels.

Introduction

Concerns over global warning have become public and scientific issues over the years. Conflicts between groups have never ceased over centuries. Armory industries are flourished in the middle of continuous long and enduring peace talks. Ever since the ancient civilization people have been trying to find out the road to eternity, but at the same time people are trying to destroy one another, enforcing similarities above individual differences and executing genocides on behalf of Puritanism. Ever since the “code of Hammurabi” people have been aware of their rights to live in this planet of earth, but conflicts in humanity remains as serious issues in every generation.

Scientists, educators and politicians are aware of the needs to develop programs such as sustainability, but at the same time they also develop programs to destroy the potential life resources that may sustain life. Numbers of creatures have disappeared from the earth not by natural causes but by deliberate acts of human behavior.

PARAGRAPH SUMMARY OF 2015-2016 INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES AND PLANS

*Building Interfaith Harmony: Ongoing events locally and symposia locally and nationally; current intercontinental/international web site: <http://www.unitingfaiths.org/>.

*Promoting a 'Voice of Conscience': working with professionals nationwide to create a network of efforts to help vets overcome PTSD and to provide opportunities for a true expression of conscience. There are NGOs nationwide participating and a web site to promote all of the above: <http://www.voicesofconscience.org/>.

*Humanitarian and Sustainable Interventions in chronically devastated populations, e.g. Haiti (<http://www.greenhawaiiiconferences.com/>) A sustainable community paradigm in Lihue HI has been formed for the past 4 years.

* Building Resiliency for professionals working in all of the above areas, ongoing since 1997.

ADMINISTRATIVE SECTION

Editor, ICP Publication

Seeking New Horizons

St. Augustine, Florida.

ICP, Inc. celebrates a jubilee birthday because leaders invested. They invested time, money, talent and sheer determination. Quite a remarkable feat given the 30-35 average life span of the majority of incorporations.

The President’s primary objective this year is for EACH MEMBER TO ENROLL A NEW MEMBER. President Sigal knows this is not an easy request, but also that it is essential for the continuation of the association.

If you have already found your new member and have paid for their dues or need to have a membership application sent to that new member, please send a message to Secretary General Nancy Quatrano so she can assist with the enrollment and be sure there is necessary contact information in the ICP, Inc. data base.

If you have a nomination for the spring board ballot, please contact Past President Pir. Positions open are: President Elect, Treasurer, Secretary, and two Directors at Large. Do not hesitate to self nominate if you possibly can. An all out effort to assure a strong leap into the future is necessary.

The bottom line question remains: Is it time to declare ICP, Inc.’s mission accomplished? Is it time to revamp, restructure and redirect energies? Is it important psychology to have an inclusive, generalist & interdisciplinary association that holds fast to a face-to-face annual gathering and collaborative opportunity?

Contact Past-President Tara Pir with your nomination for board positions. And yes, it’s fine to nominate yourself if you desire to serve in one of the positions needed for the 2016 elections!

The following positions need to be filled:

- ♦ President Elect for the 2016-17 service year
- ♦ Treasurer for 2016-2018 period
- ♦ Two directors at large

Send your nominations to drtarapir@imces.org by April 20, 2016.

International Council of Psychologists (ICP, Inc.) 74th Annual Conference 22-25 July 2016, Yokohama, Japan

Conference Theme: Psychology for World Equality, Access and Well-Being

Conference date

The 74th Annual Conference of the International Council of Psychologists (ICP Inc.) will be held on 22-25 July, 2016, in Yokohama, Japan. Don't miss this excellent opportunity to share ideas and to engage in face-to-face discussions with fellow colleagues! The International Congress of Psychology (ICP2016) will be held at the same place during and after our meeting, so there will be ample opportunities to meet psychologist colleagues from all over the world.

Conference venue

Pacifico Yokohama is one of the most distinguished convention centers in Japan. It is located in the waterfront of Yokohama Bay and consists of a Conference Center, an Exhibition Hall, a hotel and the National Convention Center of Yokohama. The buildings, modeled after a yacht sail and a shell, are impressive from both the sea and land sides.

GUIDELINES FOR HOSTING AN INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL OF PSYCHOLOGISTS, INC. ANNUAL CONFERENCE AND BOARD MEETING

The International Council of Psychology, Inc holds an annual scientific program and Board meeting each year in accord with the policy of freedom of movement of scientists. The conference host (local arrangements committee) must be a member of ICP, Inc. To establish the feasibility of submitting an application, a potential applicant might begin with an overview of some logistical issues for proposing a Congress venue:

- ♦ Is there a conference venue to host at least 80 participants? Are there sufficient hotel rooms close to the conference venue?
- ♦ Is there a scientific community to develop or sponsor the program?

Proximity in time and site to other major professional congresses. ICP operates in alliance with the International Association of Applied Psychology [IAAP, quadrennial congresses], the International Union of Psychological Science [IUPsyS, quadrennial congresses that meet in between the IAAP cycles]; the American Psychological Association or the Canadian Psychological Association; with options for meeting near allied professional association on intervening years.

Proximity in time and site to other major professional congresses. ICP operates in alliance with the International Association of Applied Psychology [IAAP, quadrennial congresses], the International Union of Psychological Science [IUPsyS, quadrennial congresses that meet in between the IAAP cycles]; the American Psychological Association or the Canadian Psychological Association; with options for meeting near allied professional association on intervening years.

Geographical Rotation among continents and countries attempts to guarantee broad geographical coverage, proximity to other major professional conferences, or in regions where psychologists may not have presented a scientific program previously.

The scientific community in the conference country is especially invited to participate in the scientific program.

Communication: There is a requirement for intensive and frequent communication between the Board President, Scientific Program Chair, Local Arrangements

Chair, Workshops Chair, InAbsentia Student Posters Chair, and Awards Chairs.

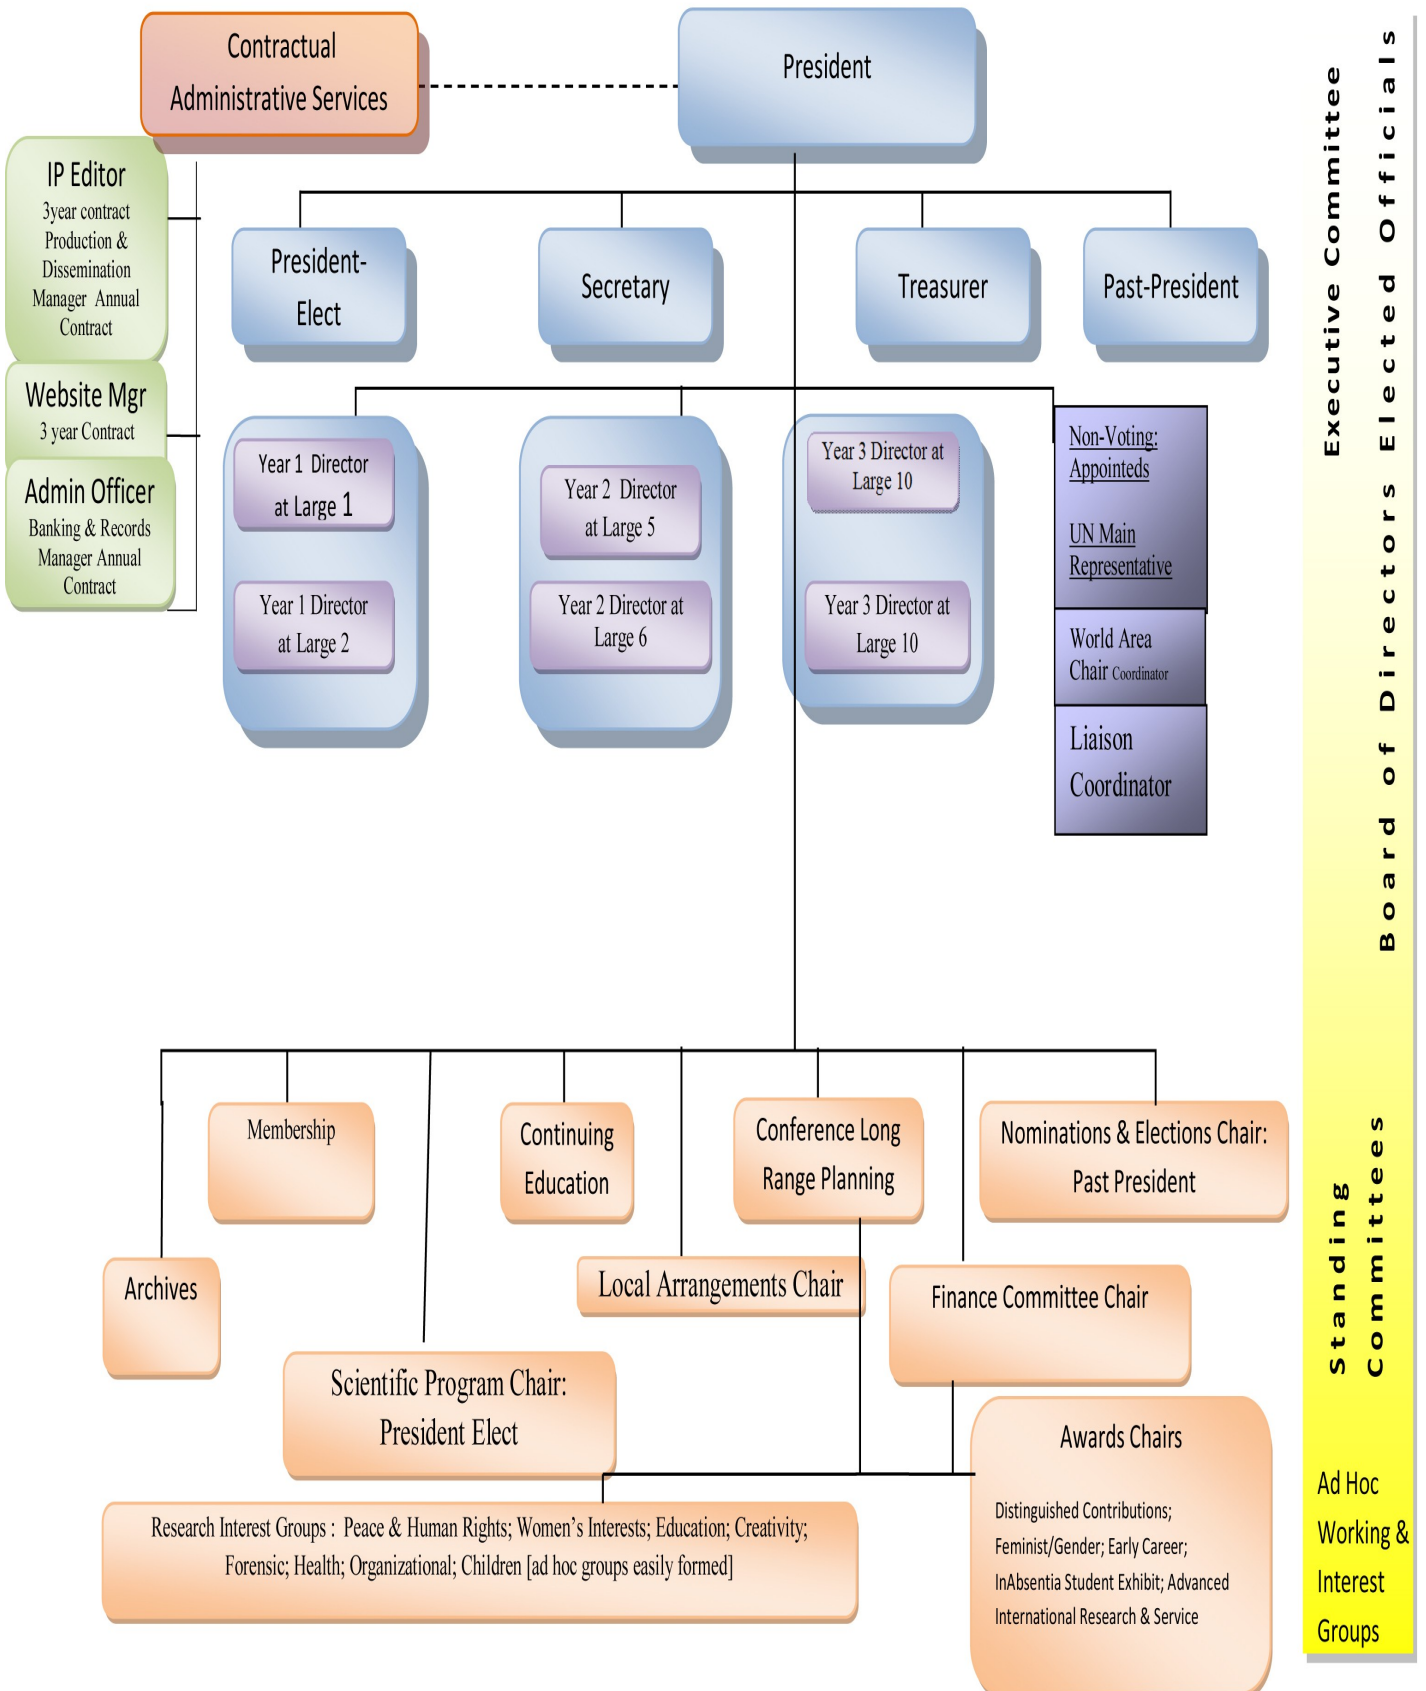

Costs for participating in the Congress are another factor. The Board will expect that the registration fee will be reasonable, that there is a range of good hotel rates (including inexpensive ones) and that travel costs can be kept as low as possible. Despite efforts to keep costs low, travel is expensive for young psychologists, and for psychologists from the developing world and transition countries. It is therefore important to provide a plan that will guarantee special fees, housing, and support for those colleagues.

A balanced budget needs to be provided in outline. It is important to show realistically how the income (registration fees and other) will cover your costs. It may be helpful to consult the preceding organizers of conferences in drafting the budget. The budget is reviewed by the President and the Treasurer, who can offer advice.

Proposals can be submitted to Dr. Merry Bullock at her email: MerryBullock@mac.com.
