PEACEFUL CO-EXISTENCE, HARMONY AMIDST DIFFERENCES, AND WELL-BEING OF ALL GROUPS & PEOPLE

2018

to everyone as we celebrate our blessings and the wonderful international network we have through ICP, Inc.

As I see the growing instances of terrorism throughout the world, the unveiling of sexual assaults toward women in our corporations, government, and entertainment industries, and the nuclear threats made by our leaders, I ponder whether the alpha males styles of leadership is live and well. We must do better as ICP to mobilize a better way of asserting our presence on this earth and PROMOTING THE VALUES OF PEACEFUL CO-EXISTENCE, HARMONY AMIDST DIFFERENCES, AND THE WELL-BEING OF ALL GROUPS AND PEOPLE.

I hope ICP activities will advance these objectives as Andrew Simon is working to build our membership base while Sandra Neil is building our area chair and interest groups as we celebrate 75 years of a vibrant ICP. IF YOU HAVE NOT YET GOTTEN YOUR COPY OF OUR 75TH ANNIVERSARY RESOURCE VOLUME ON INTERNATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY, edited by Harold Takooshian, Florence Denmark, Uwe Gielen and Ann Marie O'Roark, PLEASE DO.

CONFERENCE IN MONTREAL

We are preparing for a robust 2018 with our upcoming CONFERENCE IN MONTREAL under the able coordination of President Elect

Natalie Porter and Local Arrangements Chair Ada Sinacore. ICP,INC.'S annual meeting and scientific program will occur on June 23-26 just before the International Congress of Applied Psychology[IAAP: ICAP2018].

ICP,INC's program theme is Human Rights, Dignity, and Social Justice. In a world of growing economic inequality, global migration and refugee crises, and persistent human rights violations, the 2018 ICP theme addresses psychologists' contributions to human well-being and resilience globally through our science, practice, and advocacy.

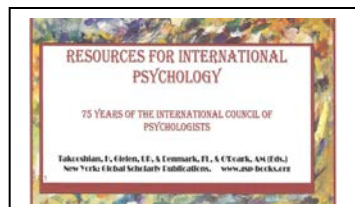

JOIN US IN MONTREAL

Our International Leadership Network will reconvene there with a group of 25 researchers collaborating on Global and Diverse Leadership. We are compiling a compendium of interviews of diverse leaders to examine how leadership is influenced by the social identities, life narratives, and social contexts; more importantly of the kinds of leadership needed to build a sustainable society.

CHANGE IS INEVITABLE

Thanks to Arthur Roh who has done a great job as our interim Secretary General and helped ICP,INC's search for a permanent Sec.Gen. to be successful. It is my pleasure to announce that the Board has negotiated a three year contract with Merry Bullock to serve as permanent Secretary General, beginning January 1, 2018. She comes well qualified, being no stranger to international psychology as the former Director of the Office of International Affairs at the American Psychological Association. She will do an incredible job in building our international presence and facilitating association activities and management.

I ASK YOU TO JOIN ME IN WELCOMING DR. BULLOCK TO HER NEW POSITION IN THE COUNCIL. Jean Lau Chin 2017-18 President

ICP, INC ANNUAL CONFERENCE
MONTREAL JUNE
23-26, 2018

www.ICPWEB.ORG

Greetings to all. The ICP 2018 Montreal Conference, June 23-25, Human Rights, Dignity and Justice, promises to be an exciting meeting. Plenary and luncheon speakers include:

- Dr Ashima Nehra, All India Institute of Medical Sciences, New Delhi, India, speaking on Human Rights for persons with Disabilities
- Dr. Elizabeth Davis-Russell, President Emeritus, Tubman University, Harper, Liberia addressing Re-establishing Education as a Human Right Post Civil War
- Meenakshi Arora, Senior Advocate, Supreme court of India, New Delhi addressing Woman's Rights Internationally
- Dr. Jessica Henderson Daniel, President of the American Psychological Association.

Symposia on Human Rights organized Sandra Neil and on Global and Diverse Leadership organized by Jean Lau Chin are also being planned.

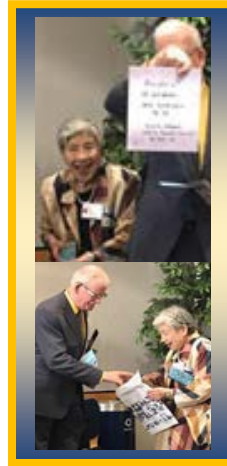

Indigenous Rights and Refugee Rights are two other priorities for this conference. We would appreciate suggestions for plenary speakers in these two important areas.

Program proposals are being submitted and the deadline for proposal submission is approaching (February 1). Please remember that all participants will need to provide a submission. Please feel free to contact me at nporter@alliant.edu with questions or for assistance in submitting. Further details are available on the ICP website: <http://www.icpinc2018.org>.

The conference banquet on June 24 will also support human rights endeavors. The dinner will be held at Robin des Bois, a restaurant that is a not-for-profit organization. The restaurant is staffed mostly by volunteers and donates its profits to four community organizations addressing solitude, social isolation, and poverty.

The ICP 2018 is taking place during the National Holiday of Quebec, the feast day of Saint John the Baptist. The holiday has been known to be celebrated in Quebec since 1636 by the First French colonists. It became a legal holiday in 1925 and was declared the national holiday in Quebec in 1977. In Montreal, bonfires, traditional folk songs, and parades, nighttime fireworks, and free concerts are all part of the celebration. We are fortunate to witness and participate in this multicultural event described as Montreal's (and Quebec's) favorite holiday.

During this year of political, social, and natural upheavals, the need for coming together at ICP is crucial. Sharing our experiences, learning from each other, giving and receiving support and sustenance is essential to sustain the commitments and work on behalf of international social justice.

Motivational Impacts: Council Recognitions and Appreciations

A WEEK AGO, I RECEIVED A SURPRISE PACKAGE from ICP parliamentarian O'Roark across the Ocean. With excitement I opened it and found a Gavel expressing appreciation for my Presidency, 2016-2017, ICP, Inc. I am not sure if I deserve this recognition but I am so very happy with this surprise. It now decorates my home office along with the Medal that I was given during the N.Y.C. Conference.

Any time one is recognized, it inspires one's motivations of well-being. This reminded me of the business meeting at the N.Y.C. Conference where I, as President, recognized those who contributed to ICP, and, also those who helped and supported me during my Presidency and the Yokohama Conference. I have realized that the names of those people were not submitted on the IPs, so please let me take the liberty of recognizing those names here with appreciation again. Those names in 1 and 2 were given plaques from ICP (according to ICP's regulations and I added my personal appreciation), and those in 3 and 4 were given a wall hanging made from rice paper which is rather personal, based on the category mentioned above. Those names are:

1. Dr Ann Marie O'Roark, Ms. Nancy Quatrano for appreciation of long-term dedication to ICP, Inc., and for substantial help in the preparation of the Yokohama Conference; Dr. Tara Pir, a former president for contributions to ICP, Inc. and help at the Yokohama Conference; Dr. Janet Segal for recognition as the immediate past President.

2. Dr. Richard Velayo outgoing DAL, for completion of the role; Dr. Cecilia Cheng for completion in the role of DAL.

3. Dr. Florence Denmark as our continuing Parliamentarian; Dr. Jean Chin for representing LAC, N.Y.C. Conference; Dr. Harold Takooshian for taking leadership for the publication, The 75th Anniversary Book; Dr. Justinia Aire, Dr. Merry Bullock, Dr. Josephine Tan, Dr. Wright, Dr. Silverberg (for support during my Presidency as Local Arrangements and Coordinator for Yokohama 2016).

4. Dr. Sandra Neil, Dr. Anna Laura Comunian for the support of my presidency as ongoing DAL and substantial support at the Yokohama Conference.

5. In addition, I appointed Drs. Roth Roswith and Dietrich Albert to our Ambassadors-in-appreciation of their long-term activities throughout the world.

Also, I would like to express my appreciation for the work and support of all of those members and colleagues whose names are not listed here. I am grateful to all for helping me fulfil my role during this transitional period of ICP, Inc.

From a historical perspective, I am thankful that during this time I could arrange 2 Conferences, as Chair, LAC, Yokohama Conference, to celebrate a part of the Jubilee year after 26 years of our 48th Anniversary which I arranged in Tokyo, as a S-G, LAC.

Our history will lead to changes but they make the Association stronger and more stable. Rome was not built in a day, I feel. Now, into the future.

I understand that the Long Range Conference Arrangement Committee headed by Dr. Bullock and Lavooy is assisting President Elect Natalie Porter and Local Arrangements Chair Ada Sinacore of Montreal in their work preparing for the 2018 Conference. It is earlier than usual next year. Please do not forget to participate by registering for both the Conference and membership.

Also, I would like to remind you that the spring election for PE and DAL will be announced in IP. We expect to send a ballot out for your vote in the next several weeks. All Members are able to vote if they are "in good standing." Dues paid or "Emeritus" status].

PLEASE VOTE

Finally, a warm welcome to Dr. Bullock in her role as permanent Secretary General and appreciation to Arthur Roh for the dedicated work he has done, as interim S-G.

I wish each a Happy and Peaceful New Year!

TREASURER MESSAGE

ICP December 10, 2017

Honolulu, Hawaii

Nancy M. Sidun

PsyD, ABPP, ATR

Our financial picture is currently stable. Having looked very thoroughly and closely at our budget it has allowed us to make some adjustments that will permit us to remain financially solvent for 2017 and 2018.

In addition to using monies from our convention account to offset our operating expenses, we have also resumed our membership dues structure from before the 2015-16 pilot membership dues structure used for 2017 dues. We anticipate that will bring in more monies to support our operating costs.

We continue to look creatively for ways of increasing our income to insure that operating costs will be covered by what we take in as an organization.

ICP,INC Bank of America Accounts

As of December 15, 2017 current balance in the ICP,INC. Operations Account is $24,571.08. Balance in the Convention Account is $27,700.87.

With the next convention in Montreal June 2018, we are striving to break even recognizing it will be tight. We truly hope all the members attend the conference as the planning committee is working diligently on putting together a stellar conference.

Lastly, the ICP,INC Savings/Scholarship account remains robust at $62,287.45.

Respectfully submitted,

ICP, INC UN REPRESENTATIVE GENEVA

The UN Forum established by the Human Rights Council in 2011 has become the world's largest global gathering on business and human rights. The three-day conference is held annually in Geneva, normally in November. As the Human Rights Council specifies, the Forum serves as a key global platform for stakeholders to "discuss trends and challenges in the implementation of the Guiding Principles and promote dialogue and cooperation on issues linked to business and human rights."

The Forum is open to States, business enterprises and associations, civil society organisations, trade unions, victims, academics, students, the media and any other relevant stakeholder. The Working Group is composed of five independent experts, of balanced geographical representation. The Working Group has a mandate:

- a) to promote the effective and comprehensive dissemination and implementation of the Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights;
- b) to identify, exchange and promote good practices and lessons learned;
- c) on the implementation of the Guiding Principles and to assess and make recommendations thereon and to seek and receive information;
- d) to promote capacity-building and the use of the Guiding Principles;
- e) to conduct country visits and to respond promptly to invitations from States;
- f) to explore options and make recommendations at the national, regional and international levels;
- g) to integrate a gender perspective;
- h) to work in close cooperation with other relevant special procedures of the Human Rights Council;
- i) to develop a regular dialogue and discuss possible areas of cooperation with Governments and all relevant actors;
- l) to guide the work of the Forum on Business and Human Rights;
- m) to report annually to the Human Rights Council and the General Assembly;

n) To give due consideration to the implementation of the Guiding Principles in the context of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

Human Resources Management Service at UNOG

The Human Resources Management Service at UNOG provides services to approximately 4,300 staff members in Geneva and in field offices worldwide, as well as expert advice and policy guidance on human resources management issues to more than 30 client services that it serves.

The United Nations employs more than 43,000 people serving in different parts of the world. In accordance with the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the paramount consideration in the appointment, transfer or promotion of staff is securing the highest standards of efficiency, competence and integrity, for the best functioning of the Organization.

Peacekeeping Missions

Early peacekeeping operations were mainly in support of the services and encompass a broad range of human resources activities which include the recruitment, placement and promotion of staff and the administration of staff benefits and entitlements.

Staff development and career support is provided through training and learning programmes designed to help staff acquire language skills and keep pace with changing technologies and the evolution of the United Nations mandates.

Staff members are subject to the authority of the Secretary-General and to assignment by him to any of the activities or offices of the United Nations.

Psychology in the international community

We extended our participation in psychology at an international level through membership of the Board and Executive Committee of the International Association of Applied Psychology (IAAP) and through membership of the Board of the International Union of Psychological Science (IUPsyS). We co-sponsored the inaugural South-East Asian Regional Conference of Psychology in Hanoi.

We were proud to share in the celebrations of the American Psychological Associations (APA) 125th anniversary in Washington this year. The APA shares our vision of raising the visibility of psychology, building capacity for advocacy, preparing psychology for the future and the promotion of psychology as a science.

Marriage equality

The APS supports marriage equality and worked with relevant member groups throughout the same-sex marriage debate and postal vote campaign to respond to Government proposals, develop resources and information for psychologists and the public, release public statements, and conduct media interviews. We contributed thoughtfully to the debate with evidence from a range of resources on human rights, the mental health impacts of discrimination, and same-sex parenting. A letter to the editor was published in The Australian newspaper and was also widely shared on social media generating comment and discussion.

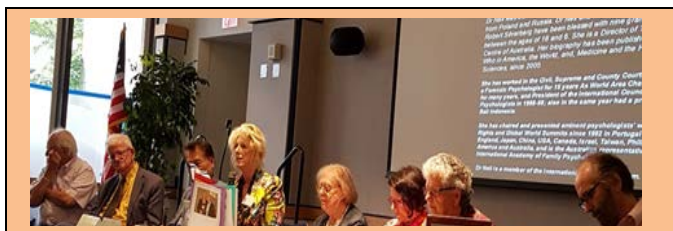

Believe in Change

Our national advertising campaign Believe in Change promoted the work of APS psychologists to the community and showcased the benefits of psychological strategies for issues experienced across the life span. The campaign aired on television, radio and in cinemas, in addition to social media, and provided members with the opportunity to contribute to speaking events, media partnerships and publishing. Believe in Change received an overwhelmingly positive response from the public and our members.

The APS Bendi Lango bursary

To support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students in their postgraduate professional psychology studies, the 2017 APS Bendi Lango bursary was awarded to a Aboriginal postgraduate student undertaking a Master of Psychology (Clinical Psychology) at the University of Melbourne.

*Dr. Bullock began her term as President of the APA

International Division on January 1, 2018. As president she will have a busy schedule including activities at the convention and the annual Division conference. Here is a notice from Merry about the 2018 APA Convention:

Early Career Psychologists and people researching them: A Second Chance to Submit a Research or Innovation Poster for APA Convention

You have until Sunday Feb 4, 2018 at 11:59 p.m. EST to submit a poster for APA Convention, Aug 9-12 in San Francisco, CA

The Committee on Early Career Psychologists (CECP) is hosting up to two 50-minute Research and Innovation Poster Sessions in the Exhibit Hall of Convention this year in San Francisco, California. These session have a rare, extended deadline of February 4th to allow more people to participate in Convention.

Eligibility:

The first author must be an Early Career Psychologist within 10 years of their graduate degree, presenting on any research findings, new ideas, innovations or advances in the profession. Alternatively, we will accept applications from any other individual whose topic squarely addresses concerns relevant to early career psychologists or the early career developmental phase.

Due to our later-than-typical deadline, names of participants in this poster session may not be included in the printed convention program but should appear in the online Convention program and mobile app. Also, it may not be possible to prevent schedule conflicts if authors of the posters are also presenting other material at Convention.

The first author on the submission should be expected to participate if the poster is accepted.

CECP will not require APA membership. Members and non-members alike will be required to register for Convention.

According to Convention rules, authors of posters may not present more than one additional poster or talk at Convention.

Submissions to this session should not be redundant or substantively similar to proposals already accepted for Convention under the original application deadline.

Poster sessions allow presenters and attendees to engage in extended discussions regarding the author's presentation that is in illustrated format on a poster board.

How to apply:

Submit an application form at <https://goo.gl/forms/f8tcncPjoMArQ7f42> by the Feb 4 deadline

You will be asked to provide author information (first author and up to 5 co-authors), an abstract up to 200 words, a title, and index codes. You can view the form to learn full requirements for a completed submission.

The Committee on Early Career Psychologists will examine all applications for eligibility. Application materials must be received electronically on or before 11:59 p.m. (EST) on February 4, 2018. Notifications will be made approximately one month after the deadline.

Be sure to keep a copy of all submitted materials for your records. Questions? Contact Eddy Ameen, PhD, Director of APA Office on Early Career Psychologists (eameen@apa.org, 202-216-7627) or Jasmin Llamas, PhD, CECP Program Chair (jasminllamasphd@gmail.com).

This is an exciting time of growth for ICP. Plans that have been in the works for the past two years will be taking form in 2018. Specifically, this year we'll be offering new means through which ICP will continue its tradition of linking professionals around the world. Members will also find an increase in ICP's online presence. The following is an update on our membership and a brief overview of what's ahead.

As Membership Chair, I am pleased to report that our membership base grew throughout 2017. We have now doubled the size of ICP over the past two years. It's clear we're succeeding in getting out the word and introducing our colleagues to the value of ICP. I encourage everyone to keep up the good work so our base will continue to grow in 2018 and throughout the coming years. For those who have not yet renewed membership for this year, please take a moment to do so.

I want to thank everyone who replied to my email from November, 2017. I requested information so we could begin compiling a database of members' expertise and interests. Our plan is to make this information available so we can connect on issues related to, for instance, best practices, research collaborations, and mentoring. I encourage all those who have not yet had a chance to send me this information to reply when you can. We hope to include everyone in this project.

In the coming year, our efforts to supply and share information will extend beyond connections within ICP. Merry Bullock and I are close to completing a project that will provide members with information on dates and locations for conferences offered by an array of international associations. We will post this information on our webpage, making it available to anyone who visits our site.

Finally, I am pleased to report that ICP will begin its practice of offering webinars in 2018. Merry Bullock, ICP, INC new Secretary General, and I are in the process of setting up the technology and lining-up presenters.

Our goal is to provide members with an ongoing selection of expert presentations and a forum for generating dialogue. We anticipate offering ICP's first webinar in the spring. An announcement will be made via email. We welcome any suggestions for presentation topics and would like to see the experts within ICP lead some of the webinars. In time, we hope to be able to offer continuing education credits as part of this program. It holds great potential. As with all of our efforts, this is another opportunity in which ICP can serve the international community. I look forward to seeing you online.

The ICP, Inc. is a vibrant international psychological association that continually acts to promote international psychology and for the benefit of its members. Much of my ICP activities is tied in to my role as the ICP Awards Coordinator where I work with the chairs of the various ICP awards: the Fukuhara Advanced International Research and Service Award, the Frances Mullen Distinguished Contributions to International Psychology, the Denmark-Grunwald Feminist Research and Service Award, the Sukemune-Bain Early Career Research Award, and the Dayan-O'Roark In-Absentia Graduate Student Poster Conference Award. The recipients of the 2017 ICP awards were recently announced in volume 57, issue 3, of The International Psychologist.

I am also involved in other ICP activities that relate to awards and grants. After the 75th ICP annual conference in New York City this past summer, we started a new awards cycle. I worked with the award chairs to prepare detailed descriptions of the different awards for posting on the ICP website. A generous donation from Tokiwa University, Japan, allowed the ICP to establish two new awards that are designed to assist early career professionals and students whose first language is not English. Following substantial consultations with Dr. Machiko Fukuhara, Dr. Merry Bullock, and the ICP Board to delineate the details associated with both awards, the ICP Early Career/Student Conference Travel Grant and the ICP Workshop Development Grant are now ready for the 2018 awards year. The Conference Travel Grant will help individuals travelling from distant or economically-challenged countries with the costs of attending and presenting at ICP conferences. The Workshop Development Grant is designed to help in the development and implementation of workshops that will provide training and/or mentorship of early career scholars or students whose first language is not English.

I am pleased to announce that Dr. Swati Bajpai from the All India Institute of Medical Sciences in New Delhi, India, will be chairing the ICP Early Career/Student Conference Travel Grant. She is the 2017 Sukemune-Bain award recipient. I am also pleased to announce that Mr. Joshua Wright (University of Western Ontario, Canada) who is a Graduate Student Representative on the ICP Board will also be serving on the committee as a reviewer.

Finally, I have been attempting to complete a historical list of ICP award recipients that had been started in the previous years. While we have most of the information, we are still missing some data. I would like to take this opportunity to reach out to the IP readers and see if anyone can help me fill in the blanks. We need the name and institutional affiliation/country of the award winners for these years:

(i) Sukemune-Bain award: years 2005/2006 through to 2010/2011

(ii) Frances Mullen award: years 1988 through to 2011. It is possible that the award was not given out regularly until 2011.

If anyone has the missing award information, I would be delighted to hear from you. Please contact me at jtan@lakeheadu.ca. In closing, I wish everyone peace, security, and success in 2018!

As psychology now grows much faster outside than inside North America, how can professionals and students become more involved in global psychological science, practice, consulting, advocacy? This volume presents valuable new information in four parts:

I. Forewords by distinguished leaders of the International Council of Psychologists.

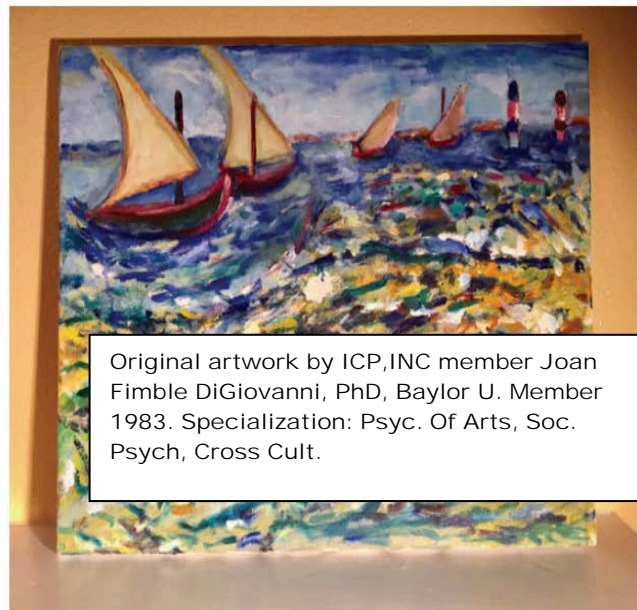

II. Past. New materials on 75 years of ICP—including its remarkable origins in 1941, its growth, current activities, and selected Proceedings of the annual ICP conferences in Yokohama (2016) and New York City (2017).

III. Present. Ten concise and helpful essays by key experts, each offering resources for novices and veterans who seek to get more involved in international psychology: Organizations / Teaching / Research / Consulting / Service / Study abroad / Teaching abroad / Funding / Advocacy / Technology / United Nations activities / Leadership

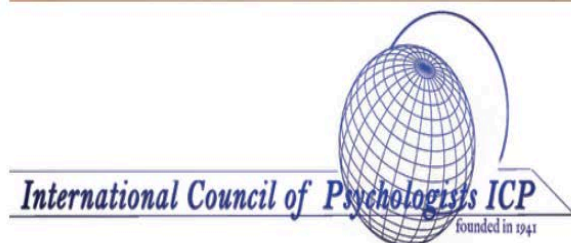

IV. Future. Twenty recent and current leaders of international psychology associations offer a personal vision statement, to answer this timely question: "In your view, what is the optimal role of international psychology organizations to address the emerging challenges of the 21st Century?"

Dear ICP, Inc.,

I want to thank all the members and leaders at ICP, Inc. for their wonderful work and effort in advancing the values of the organization this past year. The 2017 conference was a wonderful learning experience for myself and I am excited to see what ICP, Inc. has in store for 2018. It has been a great honor in serving as the interim secretary-general. I firmly believe in ICP's mission to emphasize social justice and global wellness as well as to create meaningful relationships. I am confident that the incoming, permanent Secretary-General, Dr. Merry Bullock will help guide, support, and lead ICP, Inc. in the right direction.

Thank you again. Wishing a happy, healthy, and productive 2018!

BISTOPS: Biennial International Seminar on the Teaching of Psychological Science

9-13 July, 2018

• Maison Suger • 16-18 rue Suger • 75006 Paris, France

The seminar is designed to give a small group of participants the opportunity to discuss existing research on the scholarship of teaching and learning in psychology, to exchange new research ideas, to create collaborative international research teams, and ultimately to generate published empirical studies whose results will promote evidence-based recommendations for improving the teaching of psychological science on an international scale.

Co-sponsored by:

The Fondation Maison des Sciences de l'Homme - Maison Suger

École de Psychologues Praticiens

The Education Directorate of the American Psychological Association

The Society for the Teaching of Psychology

The Association for Psychological Science

The National Institute on the Teaching of Psychology

The Fondation Maison des Sciences de l'Homme - Maison Suger, in cooperation with École de Psychologues Praticiens, the Education Directorate of the American Psychological Association, the Society for the Teaching of Psychology, the National Institute on the Teaching of Psychology, and the Association for Psychological Science is pleased to announce the inaugural Biennial International Seminar on the Teaching of Psychological Science (BISTOPS).

With a supporting grant from Springer Publishing Company, this English language seminar has been organized by Douglas Bernstein (University of South Florida, Tampa, Florida, USA), and will take place on 9 through 13 July, 2018 in Paris at Maison Suger, the Fondation's residential and working facility located at 16-18 rue Suger, in the Latin quarter (<http://www.fmsch.fr/en/node/24204>).

The seminar will accommodate about 20 participants who have experience in conducting and publishing research on teaching psychology and in successful grant-writing, as well as those who are developing ideas for such research, or have a strong interest in doing so.

The seminar is designed to give participants the opportunity to discuss existing research on the scholarship of teaching and learning in psychology, to exchange new research ideas, to create collaborative international research teams, and ultimately to generate published empirical studies whose results will promote evidence-based recommendations for improving the teaching of psychological science on an international scale.

Four of the five days will include a speaker presentation followed by group discussion and brainstorming about the research that has been done—and that still needs to be done—on that day's topic. The fifth day will feature participant research posters and two or three 30-minute presentations on recent and/or planned research by selected participants.

The main speakers include David Daniel (James Madison University, Harrisonburg, Virginia, USA), who will discuss the importance of conducting ecologically valid research on the teaching of psychology; Douglas Bernstein, who will review the latest evaluative literature on a wide variety of active learning strategies; Sue Frantz, (Highline Community College, Des Moines, Washington, USA), who will present a hands-on workshop highlighting the latest in teaching technologies and lead a discussion of how best to evaluate their effectiveness; and Ingrid Snijders (Roosevelt Center for Excellence in Education, Middelburg, and HZ University of Applied Sciences, Vllissingen, The Netherlands), who will describe her research on the link between student-teacher relationship quality and learning outcomes.

The formal part of each seminar day will take place in Maison Suger's conference room from 09:30 to 13:30, with a coffee break at 11:00. Participants will be free for the rest of the day for lunch and dinner on their own or in groups and to pursue informal discussions and research planning sessions.

The registration fee of 180 USD includes admission to the seminar, daily coffee breaks, complimentary one-year memberships in both the Society for the Teaching of Psychology and the Association for Psychological Science, and a certificate of participation from Maison Suger on behalf of the Foundation Maison des Sciences de l'Homme. The cost of the adults-only apartments at Maison Suger ranges from about 50 to about 120 euros per night (double occupancy or room-sharing adds only 5 euros per night). The building has 24-hour reception, keypad entry, copy and fax machines, laundry facilities, international newspapers, and a gym and sauna. The apartments are basic but comfortable, and include a small kitchen, a full bathroom, telephone with answering machine, cable TV, wireless Internet, and daily housekeeping service.

To request further information, please contact Douglas Bernstein at douglas.bernstein@comcast.net. To apply for a place at the inaugural seminar, visit www.bistops.org. The deadline for completed applications is January 15, 2018.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

11TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE SOCIETY FOR HUMANISTIC PSYCHOLOGY
MARCH 22-25, 2018

Dear Friends and Colleagues:

I am pleased to invite you to submit a proposal to our 11th annual conference, or to attend if you do not wish to submit a proposal. You will have an opportunity to meet, learn and network with accomplished humanistic scholars and practitioners. Join us at Naropa University in Boulder, Colorado and enjoy its beauty. Warm Regards, David J. Cain, Ph.D., ABPP

Past President, SHP Member, Conference Committee

Theme: Liberation Through Wisdom and Love:
Humanistic Psychology, Social Justice and Contemplative Practice

The foundations of Humanistic Psychology were forged in a community that had great interest in transforming the world into a much more loving and just place. Humanistic Psychology has also been concerned with appreciating contemplative practices and methods that cultures have developed over millennia, to nurture the love and wisdom innate to all human beings. Speakers who exemplify Humanistic and Contemplative vision will headline this conference, highlighting the shifting landscapes in mindfulness, social justice, and humanistic ways of being.

Featured Speakers

Vivian R. Chavez, Social Justice Advocate

Judy Lief, Mindfulness Teacher

Stanley Krippner, Iconic Humanistic
Psychologist

Stephany Rose, Social Justice Advocate

Location

Naropa University in Boulder, Colorado

All themes are invited for submission to the conference, with a special call for experiential sessions, including live therapy demonstrations, workshops, skill-building forums, humanistic research and conversation hours. Proposals that address the conference theme are especially encouraged. Preference will be given to CE workshops and presentations. Submit to: Submission website: <https://www.shpconference.com/>

Continuing Education

The annual SHP conference will provide Continuing Education (CE) credits for approximately 75% of its sessions. The fee for CE credits is $75.

ADMINISTRATIVE SECTION

Ironies and Persistence:

Making a Difference in the Lives of Others

Ann Marie O'Roark, PhD., ABAP
Independent Practice Consultant
St. Augustine, Florida

January, 2018. St. Augustine, Florida. USA. The annual Pasadena, California Parade Of Roses' theme for 2018 was "Making a Difference" with colorful floats handmade with flowers, seeds and other natural greenery. Infrastructures of ever more complex and unusual mechanical devices animate the giant assemblies representing creatures and structures, mountains and underwater scenes, imaginary characters and human artifacts. Marching Music Bands from schools from many states, popular concert performers and elected political officials, beauty queens and parade honorees enhance the five mile long journey of the roses on parade.

The 129th Parade of Roses awarded the international prize to a float from China (China Airlines) titled "Caring for Our Seas" and depicted a waterfall with a giant koi-like fish trying to jump over the waterfall. The ancient myth is that when the fish leaps across the falls, it becomes a dragon. The float had no dragons represented, nevertheless possibilities of a dragon appearing are awesome.

Right behind that was a float by agPHD that was their first ever entry. Possibilities for making a difference were illustrated by fields of corn and other vegetable crops. Along with oversized tractors, picker equipment and towing machines were farmers dresses for working the fields. The humorous aspect of this first-time entry was that it was the only float towed by a tow-truck. The float engine would not start when the parade started and the farmers were determined to complete the journey.

The annual rose parade serves as my tea leaf reading for guesstimating mood, priorities and interests of the general public in the USA. Perhaps, a frivolous excuse to watch a parade, but usually a trigger for my writing muses. This year, my personal favorite was "The Gift of Time," featuring a giant Aztec calendar. An entry by Donate Life, the organ donor organization, that won the award for "most outstanding presentation of the Rose Parade Theme."

The thumbnail analysis of this year's rose leaf/tea leaf event is summed by irony and persistence.

ICP, INC. 2018. How does irony and persistence relate to the Council? December 15, the 76th anniversary of the founding of the Council, marks a journey toward peace and wellbeing that began in a time of acute world stress and violence between nations. Ironically, the association persisted in its vision and managed across time and internal struggles about remaining independent to hold its course by expanding active inclusive collaborations among psychologists from different countries, of different races, beliefs and psychological training and specialization. Intentional collaborations and friendships across political and geographic regions were enabled by the annual meetings and enabling English as second Language members to hold leadership responsibilities as well as present papers in conjunction with other members of similar interests. An area chair system of membership recruitment was an innovative feature of the Council early on. This set the stage for regional meetings and comradesies among ICP, INC members living in the same part of the world.

The greatest ironic connection between ICP, INC and this Rose Parade is the theme: Making a Difference. That was the theme for the annual meeting organized by Natividad A. Dayan of the Philippines. Dr. Dayan organized the first ICP, INC annual meeting held in China. The 62ⁿ annual conference was held in Jinan, China August 2-6, 2004. Dr. Dayan also hosted a regional ICP, INC meeting in Manila. Her clinic, Dayan's Psychological Clinic, is located in V.V. Soliven Shopping Complex, Edsa, San Juan, Metro Manila. Both she and her husband were generals in the Philippine military when Ramos was President of the country. Both President Ramos and his wife, a psychologist, attended the ICP, INC banquet dinner-dance. Naty taught leadership at La Salle University and for the government.

After considerable inquiry when Dr. Dayan failed to attend the ICP, INC 2016 annual conference as she indicated she would, disturbing information indicated that "gossip" in Manila is that both Naty and her husband, Roger, are currently imprisoned.. Please take time to think about our 62nd ICP, INC President and consider how the Council can continue "Making a Difference in the Lives of Others" (Eds N. Dayan, E. Grothberg, R. Roth, C. Hiew and A. B. Bernardo. (2006). Aachen: Shaker Verlag Publishers).

ICAP2018 Montreal June 26-30

ICP, INC: COUNCIL'S SUBMISSION

"Envisioning the Future for International Psychology"

ICP, INC's liaison to IAAP, A. M. O'Roark, submitted a proposal for a Discussion Forum at the Montreal ICAP2018 congress. The intent of the forum is to support the IAAP interest in connecting science to solutions and to introduce the Council's Anniversary Book: Resources for International Psychology. (Eds. Takooshian, Gielen, Denmark, O'Roark. New York: Global Scholarly Publications.)

ICAP2018 THEME. Psychology: Connecting Science to Solutions – was chosen to promote and increase exchange among psychologists from around the globe in their common pursuits of science and science-based solutions to problems. As the programme will also feature the latest developments in basic psychological research that can be applied to "real world" problems, this Congress will also enhance dialogue between applied and basic psychological science.

ICAP2018 PROPOSAL OPTION Discussion Forum

A Discussion Forum is intended for sharing, exploring and stimulating thoughts and ideas about an issue/topic/case, a program or intervention, or for brainstorming alternative approaches to research, practice and/treatment and/or policies. Each Discussion Forum is submitted by a leader who is expected to provide a clear but brief summary (5 minutes maximum) of the core issues, ideas or approaches, interventions, etc. to be shared and explored. In addition, the leader is expected to inspire participants into sharing and engaging with each other and with the forum topic.

Council's Proposal Statement

Envisioning a future for the science and practice of psychology in the 21st century as well as an optimal role the community of psychology organizations in addressing emerging challenges to human well being can spark endless debates and aspirations. The brainstorming session today intends to heighten participants interest in exploring and refining viable objectives that could contribute to development of solution protocols. Segments of vision statements from prominent leaders in psychological associations submitted for publication in the International Council of Psychologists, Inc. 75th Anniversary book will be used to "prime the pump" for eliciting additional ideas from the panel and participants.

Technologically heightened awareness of traumatic effects on life caused by natural and human forces will influence the unfolding of global psychology, adding a new dimension to the professional work of psychologists. Indeed, psychologists will continue to go about increasing the discipline's core knowledge base on behavior and mental functioning. Research and practice venues will continue to include individual, group, and organizational perspectives. An overarching concern will continue to be assurance of the ethical use of psychological knowledge and with competent, evidence based applications. But while some may agree with psychologist Stanley Milgram's pessimism, that "our species [has] only a modest chance for survival," others prefer the optimism of the blind-deaf sage Helen Keller: "Although the world is full of suffering, it is full also of the overcoming of suffering." Ann Marie O'Roark, LIAISON.

GUIDELINES FOR HOSTING AN INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL OF PSYCHOLOGY ANNUAL CONFERENCE AND BOARD MEETING

The International Council of Psychology, Inc holds an annual scientific program and Board meeting each year in accord with the policy of freedom of movement of scientists . The conference host (local arrangements committee) must be a member of ICP, Inc. To establish the feasibility of submitting an application, a potential applicant might begin with an overview of some logistical issues for proposing a Congress venue:

- Is there a conference venue to host at least 100 participants? (50)? (30)?
- Are there sufficient hotel rooms close to the conference venue
- Is there a scientific community to develop or sponsor the program?

Proximity in time and site to other major professional congresses. ICP operates in alliance with the International Association of Applied Psychology [IAAP, quadrennial congresses], the International Union of Psychological Science [IUPsyS, quadrennial congresses that meet in between the IAAP cycles]; the American Psychological Association or the Canadian Psychological Association; with options for meeting near allied professional association on intervening years.

Proximity in time and site to other major professional congresses. ICP operates in alliance with the International Association of Applied Psychology [IAAP, quadrennial congresses], the International Union of Psychological Science [IUPsyS, quadrennial congresses that meet in between the IAAP cycles]; the American Psychological Association or the Canadian Psychological Association; with options for meeting near allied professional association on intervening years.

Geographical Rotation among continents and countries attempts to guarantee broad geographical coverage, proximity to other major professional conferences, or in regions where psychologists may not have presented a scientific program previously.

The scientific community in the conference country is especially invited to participate in the scientific program.

Communication: There is a requirement for intensive and frequent communication between the Board President, Scientific Program Chair, Local Arrangements

Chair, Workshops Chair, In Absentia Student Posters Chair, and Awards Chairs.

Costs for participating in the Congress are another factor. The Board will expect that the registration fee will be reasonable, that there is a range of good hotel rates (particularly including inexpensive ones), and that travel costs can be kept as low as possible. Despite efforts to keep costs low, travel is expensive for young psychologists, and for psychologists from the developing world and transition countries. It is therefore important to provide a plan that will guarantee special fees, housing, and support for those colleagues.

A balanced budget needs to be provided in outline. It is important to show realistically how the income (registration fees and other) will cover your costs. It may be helpful to consult the preceding organisers of Conferences in drafting the budget. The budget is reviewed by the President and the Treasurer, who can offer advice.
